919 E Main Street

Richmond (Virginia) 23219

Downtown Richmond area is home to a concentration of legal and professional services companies, and pro-business Richmond hosts both a number of Fortune 500 corporates and plenty of start-ups. Major institutions of higher education guarantee a talented labor pool and the city benefits from road and rail links with Washington, Philadelphia and New York. Richmond International Airport is just 15 minutes from downtown.

These business premises offer city and James River views from a landmark skyscraper at the heart of downtown Richmond. They are located on the 10th floor of a 400 ft office tower, which is one of the Virginian capital's tallest buildings, and boast good on-site amenities. Governmental agencies play an important role in the local economy, and the premises overlook the state capitol building, while the office of the Attorney General and the U.S. Court of Appeal are close by.
